TEN YEARS AGO August 24, 2011

School began Monday, August 22. Because of the construction, elementary students entered their first day of school through the High School doors. All students are currently housed in the junior high and high school buildings. "It is a little crowded," said superintendent Bockwinkel, "but we are making it work. We have a couple of classrooms doubled up.

New teachers this year are Troy Haberman, business and high school basketball coach; Todd Cooksey, math and forensics coach; and Amber Nix, preschool teacher. Dena Wilcox is a new custodian.

Grace Whitham of Tribune donated 10 inches of her hair to Locks of Love. According to Robin Reuber, who cut her hair, Grace was very, very excited about donating her hair, which took about a year and a half to grow to the length required for donations.

Celebrating 100 years at the Southwest Kansas Experiment Research Station were full-time staff members agronomist Alan Schlegel, Dewayne Bond, Dale Nolan and Jeffrey Slattery.

100 YEARS AGO August 1921

Threshing is the order in Greeley County these days and the golden grain is being hauled into Tribune in great shape.

Ed Hurt is authority for a report that August Halfman is some sprinter, especially when an angry steer is after him. Ed says he kept pace with a fleet-footed horse, and both he and the horse outdistanced the steer in a contest suggested by the steer one day this past week.

At the beginning of this week we were told that 90,000 bushels of wheat had already gone through the Fishman elevator. It is estimated that the Fishman crop alone will reach 250,000 bushels. As soon as this crop is taken care of, a great force will proceed to put in next year's acreage which will be increased over last year's acreage many thousand acres. It seems that we are doomed for one of the greatest wheat growing sections in the United States.

We hardly know who needs the most censure, the county commissioners or the Tribune school board, for the neglect of the courthouse and yards. Both places should have a new windmill put up and have some water turned in on the trees.

It is really too bad to let such nice trees be neglected the way these have been. The gates are down and cattle are ruining the trees and breaking them off. Both yards need cultivating and the ground put in condition so the trees can grow.

The New Hope telegraph line has been completed and is working fine.

R.C. Burnett has been laid up with a vaccinated arm the past few days.

W.F. Bennet's horses skipped out for Towner a few days ago.

For the second time Wm. McKinley was inaugurated president of the United States Monday. His inaugural address was delivered to thousands of people who stood in a pouring rain in front of the capitol building.

Robert Pringle butchered a cow for Bob Starf this week. The meat was quite a treat, for it has been so long since there was any fresh beef in town.
